Barney Naber Heads Local

Antioch local of the Milk Producers association met Friday afternoon in the town hall for their annual meetng. The milk situation was discussed but no action was taken for recommendations.

Officers wers elected for the coming year. Barney Naber was elected president, E. E. Fields secretary-treasurer and Frank Harden and Louis Kufalk delegates.

The questien of dues was brought up. Many of the farmers were under the impression that $7, was not enough. This divides in :$5 for the association and $2 for the local.

President Naber will start immediately to try and make this section a people gathered at the three different 100 percent erganized territory, and lectures held during the day and eye. has already started action for a market for the milk for members who

Chas. Kelly Succumbs on Soo Train

Overcome by Heart Attack After Running for the Train:

Antioch was shocked Tuesday morn-Kelly, who seccumbed to an attack of heart treuble while riding on a Soo Line train. Mr. Kelly, apparently in the best of health, was to make a trip to Chicago to purchase some articles for a summer cottage. He was a little late for the 10 o'clock train and had to run most of the way to the depot. An attack of heart trouble was the result of the ren and as the train arrived at Wheeling passengers noticed. Mr. Kelly struggling to compose himself. Werd was telegraphed by the train attendants to DesPlaines to have a physician and an ambulance summoned. Whea the train arrived at lve hundred games. The first of the DesPlaines the physician announced

His remains were taken to an undertaking room in DesPlaines, from where it was brought back to Antioch by Lee Strang on Tuesday evening.

Mr. Kelly had been in good health, although on several occasions had complained of pains in his chest, for which he was taking treatments from l local physician.

Charles Kelly was born in the Isle of Man, fifty-seven years ago, and has lived in Antioch for more than forty, years. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Anna Kelly, and a brother, Will Kelly, and a sister, Mrs. Bower, of Madison, Wis.

The funeral services will be held on Saturday afterneon at 1 e'cleck, at the St. Ignation' Episcopal church. Interment will be in Hillside cometory, Antioch, Freshle-Have you plenty of room? Seph-Yes, plenty. Fresh-Well, I haven't.

This is one of the many incidents and clever happenings at the dramatic elub sleighing party held last Monday night at Abt's farm. Although the horses and sleigh arrived late, we all enjeyed ourselves with the exception of those who suffered frem indigestion, singed eye-brows and chills. Many: thanks to Ward for his farm, to Ethel for the sleigh, to Gladys for the horses and "Bussy" for music.

Did you know: That we have 129 people registered in school this year? That this is an increase of 80 percent in four years?

That It was necessary to move the seats in the study half so close tegether that they offered the same "conveniences" of the old time deable seats? That we have a dramatic club of 23, members? That over a hundred were served at the cafeteria during the institute? That the study ball is used for a dining room for 60 persons every day? That these 60 persons are served at the cateteria every day?

The seniors made a good guess when they thought that Instaweek's riddle was too difficult for anyone to answer. The riddle was: 'Why is Feb. 12 printed in rod on the calendar?" The answer: "Because Jackle Coogan will be at the high school in "Peck's Bad Boy" on that date.

Chain O' Lakes to Be Place of Recreation

Every one conversent with the facts realize that the State of Illinois does net have a Stato Park in size and dovelepment commensurate with the linpertance of Illinois and the great city of Chicago. Public men of affairs who are nequainted with local conditions in Lake and McHonry counties know that the natural conditions are there for the creation of such a park, but before it can be developed goed nute roads must be at least in prospect. We all know that the general subject of good road construction is now a vital question that the proposed plan will win at the elections, and in that event those in authority, including the members of the legislature, will be called upon to carry this verdict into effect.

They alone will decide where and how these roads are to be built. Therefore, the need of a campaign of education calculated to impress the entire people of this great state with the possibilities of converting the Lake Region of Lake and McHenry Countles into the great one hig evershadewing Recrentien and Amusement Park and the State's Main Play Ground.

Te do this there is but one practieal way and that is through the ithernl use of printers' ink, and that costs meney and lots of it. Fortunately there has been created an organization known as The Illinois Chain O'Lake Park Association-not for pecuniary profit—that has undertaken to develop a 5300 acre park on Grass Lake and because of the size and importance of this udertaking they are compelled to conduct a state wide publicity campaign of advertising, and realizing, as this Association does the need of good roads, have placed this ndvertising so as to impress the entire people of the whole state with the importance of the Lake Region as a recreation center—a work in which they have inlisted every publisher of newspapers in these counties through whom they now desire to acquaint the indifference does not exist. The napeople of what is being done-conse- tion is observing with desp interest quently this letter.

Saving also equals helping the butcher, baker and grocer to do business so that food is brought within reach of the home; and the manufacturer to make shees, clothing and the many things people need to live.

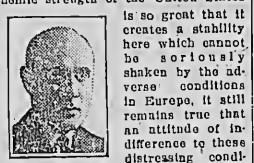

Every saver, therefore, is not only putting away money against a rainy day and carning interest en it meanwhile, but he is also making it possible for himself and others to have the luxuries, comforts and necessaries of life,—to enjoy all the advantages of a greater and better civilization. Thus through banks every saver gains a great deal mero than morely interest on his meney.

Such policies have so weakened the credit of semo of the continental nations that the task of aiding them seems tutile until it is clear that these policies are discredited and disowned by them. Although it seems clear from the record of recent years that America, mere perhaps than any other country, has been and will continue to he able to adjust itself without serious disaster, to the conditions created by European depression, and has in its own vast domestic market and in other non-European markets an outlet for its products adequate to maintain a tair degree of national presperity, the fact remains that it is very definitely to the selfish interests of the United States to have Great Britain and the Eurepean continental countries regain their normal prosperity at the earliest possible date. They nermally absorbed between 60 and 70 per cent of American exports, but recently have been taking less than 50 per cent.

Moreover, the rich contribution which Europe has made in the past to the uphnilding of other parts of the world, including the United States, would seem to create a genuine obligation upon other countries to come to its aid in the present period of difficulty. General well-helog, throughout the entire world will be diminished to a degree as long as Europe is unable to play its part in production and consumption of valuable preducts. It possesses vast resources of skill and equipment for the production of useful commodities in demand by all nations, and loss continues while these resources are limited in their use by poverty and by adverse political and social conditions. That the share of the United States in this less is relatively small should not precludo un activo interest in' every premising effort that may he made te restore the European nations to economic and financial health.

Forecasting A Tremendous Spring Demand

more Ford cars and trucks were produced last year than the previous year, an increase of over 50 per cent.

In spite of this tremendous increase in production, it was impossible to meet delivery requirements during the spring and summer months when orders for 350,000 Ford Cars and Trucks could not be filled.

This year winter buying for immediate delivery has been more active than ever before—and in addition 200,000 orders have already been booked through the Ford Weekly Purchase Plan for spring delivery.

These facts clearly indicate that the demand during this spring and eummer will be far greater than ever, and that orders should be placed immediately with Ford Dealers as a means of protection against delay in securing your Ford Car or Truck or Fordson Tractor.

Ford Motor Company

A small deposit down, with easy payments of the balance arranged, or your enfollment under the Ford Weekly Purchase Plan, will put your order on the prelerred list for spring delivery.

Do Unto Others---

Paying your bills promptly is one of the best ways to follow the Golden Rule.

First-in fairness to the merchant or professional man who has invested cash and time in the merchandise or service you have received, you should reciprocate the favor of credit by taking care of your obligations in reasonable time.

Your merchant or professional man does not require security. He demands no interest -yet he is actually loaning you cash.

Second—in fairness to your own good name and reputation, your bills should be paid on time. You are granted credit according to your past record. Your character is the basis for confidence in your ability to pay. Do your part. Pay your bills promptly. If you can't pay all at once, pay half or whatever you can and see to it that your creditor KNOWS you are playing the game SQUARE. That's one way we can all add to the good name of Antioch.

FARMING IS A BUSINESS

The most successful farmers are those who are the best business men.

To be successful, a farmer must not only be able to raise good crops and good livestock. He must also be able to handle the business of his farm in such a way that a profit will be jest at the end of the year. Here are some of the essentials of a good business farmer:

1. Spend a little less than you earn.

2. Buy economically and sell wisely.

3. Borrow money only for productive business purposes,

4. Keep your credit good by borrowing conservatively when it is necessary to borrow at ail, paying promptly, and keeping your banker informed about your business conditions

For Safety's Sake

Before locating your radio aerial ask yourself this question:

Is it safe?

Then if, after carefully considering the location, you have any doubt about its safety, call at our office and we will gladly advise you.

As a general safety measure it is best to consider every wire a live one and keep away from it until you are reliably informed to the contrary.

During the winter there's constant danger of lightly constructed aerials falling, due to weight of sleet or snow, and being brought into contact with charged power wires.

That is why it is vitally imporportant to be sure your location is safe before you erect your aerial.

Precautions are better than accidents.

Mrs. Peafield gave him a sly glance, hut made no comment. It was beginning to dawn upon her that Uncle Jerry admired Prudence Hapgondthat he regarded her as a superior being, worlds removed from the sort of existence which he had known. Before her he was sometimes shy, always awkward, always self-conseloushe, the nonchingat, self-possessed Jerry Winston—and yet he stoyed by! Around Her Nock Was a Long Chain Mrs. Penfield wondered.

Certainly Prudence was different from nayone else in The Custard Cup. Slie was like a quiet little rowbont that had strayed from its moorings and had floated late a group of variegoted eraft. Always gentle and friendly, she yet had the slightly aldef mnnner of one whose thoughts are turned often laward. So far from being modified by her surroundlngs, she had brought her own world "Gind you think so. It's a simple into them and kept it intact. of hospitality had fallen. Uncle Jerry became more communicative, about trees and out-of-doors, strangely easier now that his piece was gone. Lettle, however, understood that the honors were hers. When Penzle was away, surely she was the next hostess in line. She put uside her pictures and directed her mental energy to the question of hospitality.

"Tulking ain't much good," she said to herself, watching Uncle Jerry, who was exputlating on the value of Oregon pine. "We'd oughter feed her. Folks don't think they've had a good time to your house 'less they've et." This decision was cemented by the fact that Miss Hapgood had treated Crink and Lettle to cake a few days before. "I gotta feed her somen'n. I just gottn." She sprung to her feet and stole into the kitchen,

She stood for some time, thinking. Without looking, she knew there were no trents available in the cuphoard; "Lettle," sighed Mrs. Penfield, "what extra one 'thout getting asked for neither was it permissible to take selfhelp liherties between meals. She would have to begin at the beginning.

"How're you getting on?" inquired

Lettle brightly. This remark was intended to be encouraging, but it had a rather paralyzing effect upon conversation, which had been in full swing. Miss Hapgood dipped her hook into her work with unusual jerkiness. Uncle Jerry glared-glared os if he didn't appreelate hospitulity at all.

"Run 'long, Lettle," he sold briefly. "I got a story to finish."

A visitor to the city had her first experience in a five and ten-cent store. Thinking she would buy her little nephew a 10-cent top she picked out n miniature hugle and handed the elerk 10 cents.

"The hugle is 15 cents, madame," sald the clerk. "But I understood this was a fiveand-ten-cent store."
